Matt Quay didn't put the "burn this" injunction on those letters to "Dear John." Perhaps he wishes he had.

A Louisiana paper remarks that the man who undertakes to raise five cent cotton and a family simultaneously will be very apt to find himself over-cropped.

It is said that a good article of printing paper, which can be sold at a cent a pound, may be made from cornstalks. The cornstalk is stalking to the front.

Spain is discussing the advisability of entirely abandoning the colonial system. But the trouble with Spain is that she waited until the colonies got tired of the system and pulled out.

There are some very mean people in Pennsylvania. A couple of them recently gave a party, invited some of their neighbors, gave them "knock-out drops," and then went and robbed their houses.

Senator Pritchard says it is wrong to draw the color line. Well, then, why has his party been doing it with the colored brother and giving him only the little chunks, while the white bosses get the big, succulent ones?

The late Thomas Francis Bayard left an estate worth between $50,000 and $75,000. He was not as thrifty as John Sherman and some other Republican statesmen. But the Republican statesman can easily give the Democratic statesman points on accumulating lucre.

The development of the inventive genius in this country is remarkable. In the decade from 1840 to 1850 the annual average of patents granted was 1,186, in the next decade 3,884, in the next 20,259, in the next 33,442, and for the eight years beginning with 1890 41,479.

In Texas the Republican and Populist fusionists have nominated a blind man for Congress. Another illustration of the blind leading the blind. In this State they are not nominating any blind men, they are only presuming on the blindness of the people they expect to vote for them.

In 1867 there was one pulp mill in this country. They didn't increase much until 1882, when they began to increase rapidly. In 1896 there were 1,200 mills and some have been built since. They now require 2,000,000 cords of wood and turn out annually 1,500,000 tons of pulp.

The bottom of the Pacific ocean between California and Hawaii is so level that a railroad could be laid for a distance of five hundred miles without any grading. There are portions of the Atlantic also where the bottom for a long distance is on a dead level.

A 15-year old boy in a New York town who determined to break himself of the habit of cigarette smoking finally succeeded by sending a bullet through his head. There are better ways than that if they are taken in time.

The Republican party is patriotic. It is running the fracas with Spain for all it is worth politically. Roosevelt hopes to be elected Governor of New York on the part he took in the scrimmage.

According to the Railway Age 2,200 miles of new railway have been laid during the past nine months of this year, with the probabilities that the end of the year will show 3,000 miles.

It is announced that Governor Black will support Roosevelt, but can't stump for him because of "a severe cold caught at Saratoga." Pshaw. It was a regular Platt freeze out.

A Prohibition orator in Kentucky has been indicted for bathing in a public reservoir. Probably he took it for granted that's all the use they have for water in Kentucky.

The English people are taking so kindly to American beef that the Armour company are making arrangements to have daily shipments made from New York.

Efforts are being made to introduce American anthracite coal into Germany, and now we expect to hear of some German professor finding bugs in it.

The next Georgia Senate will be an exclusively family gathering. There will not be a Republican or a Populist in it.

A Great Time Expected at the Opera House—Music by the Fifth Ward Band.

JOHNSON & FORE'S OPENING.

Ladies of Wilmington Are Invited to Call Any Time To-day.

Messrs. Johnson & Fore's millinery opening will be in progress to day and all the ladies of Wilmington are invited to call and see the display of this one of the foremost mercantile establishments of the city. Callers may confidently expect something really beautiful and up-to-date.

Mayor's Court Yesterday.

Mayor Wright had three cases before his court yesterday and as usual they were all for being drunk and disorderly. Tom Branch was fined $5 and costs; Jas. Jordan and D. C. Littleton were given $10 each, with the costs, which amounted to $2.75 in each case.

Yesterday afternoon, Sam Faison, colored, was lodged in the lock-up on the same charge. He was drunk on Market street, near Jones' livery stables, and was terrifying some small white boys by chunking them with brick-bats. He will have a hearing to-day.

Will be Run Next Week.

The long looked for and much written about bicycle relay race by the first and second teams of the L. A. W. Club is now to be run some time next week—the weather permitting. The arrangements, supper and all, heretofore announced will be in order and an interesting race is anticipated.

STRIVING TO CLEAR THE JAIL.

That is What Solicitor Richardson Desires to Accomplish During This Court—Yesterday's Docket.

The Circuit Criminal Court is observing long business hours, having been convened at 9 A. M. yesterday and continuing in session until 5.30 P. M., with the exception of one hour, from 1 to 2 P. M., for dinner. Solicitor Richardson is bending every energy toward the clearing of the county jail and the long sessions are to accomplish this end.

Solicitor Richardson has also decided to not put on trial any of the cases that are likely to consume much time in the hearing.

Yesterday James Gerdineer came into court and entered a plea of nolo contendary in two of the cases growing out of the difficulty near the corner of Fourth and Church streets several weeks ago. The other case was nol prossed.

It is expected that a compromise of the cases against Paul Weirse for embezzlement from the B. F. Keith Co., while in their employ as book keeper will be effected to-day. In fact an effort was made to accomplish that end yesterday. It is understood that the money will be refunded

The following cases were disposed of yesterday:

James Smith, alias Eugene Jackson, colored, larceny; found guilty of trespass.

Ed. Haywood, colored, carrying concealed weapon, guilty; 60 days in the house of correction.

George Williams, colored, assault and battery with a deadly weapon, not guilty. Same defendant, carrying concealed weapon, guilty; thirty days in the county house of correction.

Blocky Williams, colored, larceny, guilty; ten months in the penitentiary.

James Anderson, colored, larceny, guilty; twelve months in the penitentiary.

Sam Carter, colored, larceny, nol prossed.

Geddy Gordon, colored, larceny, two cases, guilty; twelve months in the penitentiary.

Henry Anderson, colored, trespass, not guilty.

Becky Green, nuisance, guilty; six months in the house of correction.

Thomas Davis, colored, failure to support his family, not guilty.

Son Carter, colored, larceny, guilty; two years in the penitentiary.

Ella Murphy, colored, assault and battery with deadly weapon, not guilty.

Court took a recess at 5.30 P. M. until 9 A. M. to-day.

THIEF CAUGHT IN THE ACT.

Negro Boy Found Stealing Mr. Morrill's Shop Tools, but Escapes.

Mr C. D. Morrill, the well known builder and contractor, of Wilmington, came very near losing a number of valuable shop tools yesterday. It happened in this way: Mr. Morrill's shop is in the back of his yard on Sixth street, so near his dwelling that he has not hitherto found it necessary to keep it locked in the day time, as there is almost always some one of the family at the house. Yesterday it appeared that no one was at home, and an unknown young colored boy seized the opportunity to enter Mr. Morrill's shop with the intention of making away with some of his carpenter's tools. He was fortunately discovered by a young son of Mr. Morrill, who had been sent from the new market, where his father was working, for some tools. He came upon the negro in the shop, who had already collected a box full of tools preparatory to leaving. The negro at length made his escape, but not before young Mr. Morrill had taken several bits from his pockets and secured the other tools, which he had packed for stealing.

The name of the negro is not known, but Mr. Morrill's son would recognize his face should he see him again.

Justice Bunting's Court.

Charles Morris, alias "Son" Charles, was yesterday given a hearing by Justice Bunting on the charge of the robbery of the store and sleeping apartments of Mr. Bernice C. Moore. He was found guilty and in default of $100 bond, was shut up. This is the third case against him tried this week for stealing, and he was found guilty in each.

LOCAL DOTS.

— Register next Saturday.

— Are you a white man? And have you failed to register? If so, have your name entered on the books next Saturday.

— "What fools these mortals be"—that is, the white people of North Carolina, who are taxing themselves onerously to educate the negroes.

— The regular, bona fide mail circulation of THE MORNING STAR is larger than the mail circulation of all other Wilmington Dailies combined.

— At 1.50 P. M. to-day an excursion will arrive here from Greensboro and Liberty. The train will leave this city on the return trip at 5 P. M. Friday.

— Two marriage licenses were issued yesterday; Mr. Harry Allen Steele to Miss Rebecca Davis; and James Brown, colored, to Annie M. Williamson, colored.

— A party of gentlemen went on a deer hunt Tuesday and succeeded in shooting two of this highly prized game. They were Messrs. King, Smith and G. W. and W. F. Penny.

— The Wilmington cotton market lost the eighth yesterday which it gained Monday. The tone was firm; the receipts were 3,601 bales against 3,106 the corresponding day last year.

— It is the duty of every real white man to register and vote in the coming election. If you live in New Hanover county you must register before you can vote. This is a new registration. Register next Saturday.

— A runaway train on the Coast Line yesterday morning resulted in one car running off the track and jumping in the river. The train was about twenty-five cars in length and was laden with cotton. Only the trucks of the car got in the river.

— A young man who reaches the age of twenty one after the close of registration, and on or before the 8th of November, can register and vote on the day of election. Or, if any elector has been a resident of the State twelve months and of his county ninety days immediately preceding the day of election, he can register and vote on that day.

MINSTREL SHOW LAST NIGHT.

The Wilson-Cleveland Combination Played Before a Large Audience—Second Regiment Band Present.

A large audience greeted the Wilson-Cleveland minstrel troupe at the Opera House last night, and while the performance was very enjoyable the people were nevertheless somewhat disappointed, inasmuch as the aggregation had been heralded as "positively vastly superior in every way to all other minstrel shows in the world combined."

During the first part of the performance, the minstrel show proper, several appropriate local hits were made. For instance one of the end men asked "Mr. Johnsing" why the minstrel troupe was like the Second Regiment Band of this city. "Mr. Johnsing" gave it up, and Sambo announced that there was a Wilson at the head of it and also a Cleveland to administer the Monroe Doctrine.

He referred to Prof. Wilson, the band's gifted director, and Mr. James W. Monroe, the clever president

The band was in attendance upon the show in a body, as a compliment to Mr. J. A. Crews, Jr., a talented Wilmingtonian, who is trombonist in the minstrel band.

Members of the band as well as many others of the audience were very much dissappointed because Mr. Crews was not allotted a solo part during last night's performance. The only time he appeared alone was in front of the Opera House before the show opened when he rendered a trombone solo to assist in attracting the crowd. This too notwithstanding the fact that repeated and urgent requests for his separate appearance were made to the management, both before and during the performance.

Limited space will not admit of special reference to the features of Cleveland and Wilson's show. They left here last night for Columbia, where they play to-night. They will be in Charleston to-morrow night.

O. U. D.'s THE VICTORS.

Won the Foot Ball Game Yesterday by a Whitewash Score.

The game of foot ball yesterday between the Chesnut Street and O. U. D. elevens resulted in a victory for the O. U. D.'s by a score of 11 to 0. The game was called at 3.45 P. M. at Hilton Park. Mr. Willie French was umpire.

It was a great game, and many boys displayed a scientific knowledge of the game. Masters Smallbones and Foster of the O. U. D.'s, and Jewett and Shaw of the Chesnut Street team, deserve especial mention as having distinguished themselves for good playing.

The line up of the two teams was published in yesterday's STAR, but inasmuch as there were several changes it is reproduced with the changes as was as follows:

Chesnut St.		O. U. D.
Jewett, (c)	fb	Smallbones
Green	rh	Foster

King	c	Gibbons

— The regular, bona fide circulation of THE MORNING STAR is much larger than that of any other daily newspaper published in Wilmington.

ZEALOUS FIFTH WARDERS.

Heard Dr. Culbreth's Speech at the Corner of Seventh and Castle Streets Last Night.

For some time the Fifth Ward Democrats have been anticipating with much pleasure the speaking by Dr. N. M. Culbreth, and last night their fondest expectations were very agreeably realized. The Fifth ward is the banner Democratic ward of the city, and for all-round enthusiasm and energy they are excelled by no other in the city. The White Government Unions of this ward are compactly organized, and the attendance is always the very best. It was no wonder, therefore, with this record before them, that they turned out so well to hear Dr. Culbreth last night.

Capt. J. M. McGowan in well chosen words introduced the speaker, who was received with cheers. For more than an hour he preached undefiled Democracy to the listening crowd, who were very liberal in their applause of his remarks. Dr. Culbreth is a good speaker and the plain, unvarnished truth had its effect on the crowd last night.

Capt. Walter G. McRae, candidate for sheriff of New Hanover county, was called for, and responded in a short speech, thanking the ward and the county at large for the honor conferred upon him. His speech, though short, was appreciated by his numerous friends in the Fifth Ward and was warmly applauded.

Justice Bornemann also made a short talk to his colleagues of the Fifth Ward.

Owing to some misunderstanding the Wilmington Cornet Band did not turn out and consequently there was no procession, but the crowd was very large anyway, and nothing could have been added to the success of the meeting.

The speaking of Hon. W. D. Turner at the Opera House to-night was announced and Fifth Ward will send a large number down to this.

JUDGE EUGENE CARTER.

Died in Asheville Sunday Last from the Effects of a Narcotic.

ASHEVILLE, October 10.—Judge Eugene Douglas Carter died in his room here Sunday afternoon. He had been ill for a week or more, and on Saturday night, in an effort to induce sleep, took a dose of a drug, cautioning his servant at the time to watch him and if his pulse ran down to immediately send for a physician.

The negro servant, himself exhausted from lack of sleep, in attendance upon Judge Carter, fell asleep shortly after the judge did, and did not wake up until Sunday morning, when the judge was found in a dying condition. Judge Carter was attended by three physicians up to the hour of his death, 4.45, but only once did he show any signs of reviving.

EAVES HITS THE BULL'S EYE.

Capt. J. B. Eaves was for several years Chairman of the Republican State Committee, preceding Holton, but he was opposed to the dickering between the Republicans and the Populists, and to get him out of the way, out of the position where he might prove an obstacle in the way of the traders, they ousted him from the Chairmanship and put Holton in his place. Since then Eaves has not been figuring conspicuously in party affairs, but he has been doing a good deal of thinking and watching very closely how the fusion cat jumped. On the 3d inst. he delivered a sort of free lance speech in the court house at Rutherfordton, in which he paid his respects to the Republican and Populist traders. Speaking of the Republicans, he said:

"I differ with nearly all of the leaders of the State—Pearson, Pritchard and Linney and others. In advocating silver those leaders show that they were traitors to their own party. The Republican party is in favor of the gold standard. The Republicans of this State have sold out to the Third party."

If it were true that these Republicans stuck to silver the charge of selling out the party to the Populists might hold, but that was only a dodge to get Populist votes, for when they were in a position to be tested they showed that they had been humbugging the Populists by voting with their party for gold. They were silver men before the election, gold men after. But in either event they were traitors, traitors to the Republican party, as charged by Captain Eaves, or traitors to the silver men, whom they deceived by their false promises. Turning from them he addressed himself to the negro voter thus:

"To the colored people I want to say that you may think that you are Republicans to-day, but if you do you are mistaken. You are Republicans at heart; but if you vote the present fusion ticket you are not voting the Republican ticket. You have been sold out. You are simply joint stockholders in a joint stock company formed for the purpose of controlling the offices in the State. In a few counties in the eastern part of the State where the negroes are in a great majority the fusion party give them some offices in order to blindly carry the negroes into the fusion arrangement. I advise you to vote this year as I am going to do—vote as I please. The present fusion party is not the Republican party—the party which gave you your rights and freed you. It is simply a joint stock arrangement to control the offices of the State. In 1894 Major Grant, who was the chief cook and bottle-washer of the fusion arrangement, gave it out that they were not able to control the colored vote, but that there were enough white Republicans and Populists in the State to carry it. In 1896 they found that the negroes in the eastern part of the State had seen the effect of the combination and how they were swapping offices and they had to give the negroes in several of the eastern counties some of the offices. They drew the color line themselves by that very act. They switched the negroes off from the national party in that way. And now my advice to you is to stay at home and hold aloof from this fusion business."

Capt. Eaves has struck on "Prof." Ike Smith's "joint stock company," in which the white stock holders who hold about ten per cent. of the stock buncoed the darkeys who hold the ninety per cent. by giving them some of the small offices in the East where they are in the large majority while they selfishly refused to divide the federal patronage, or to give them a smell in the white counties where they are in the minority. This is what Capt. Eaves calls "drawing the color line," which he charges the fusionists with doing, and it was, for it was practically telling the negroes that they could hold offices within certain lines, but could not venture beyond these lines; that they were good enough to hold office in counties where there were a good many of their race, but not good enough to hold office in counties where white people were in the majority. They could dominate over the white people of the East, but there the line—the color line—must be drawn.

This was a cruel surrender of the white people of the East to the negro, and it was a dishonest, proscriptive course to pursue towards the negro, who is, if good enough to hold office in Halifax or New Hanover, or Craven, good enough to hold office in Guilford, Mecklenburg or Buncombe. But they were subjecting the white people of the East to the degradation of negro dominion, that they might control the negro voters of the State and get and hold their grip on the offices they wanted.

Of course this talk from Captain Eaves will not have any effect on the voting negroes, who will vote as the machine bosses say, for they will doubtless be told, and will doubtless believe it, that Captain Eaves has been hired and paid by the Democrats to talk that way; but it is rockbottom truth all the same. Alluding to the fusion cry of "a free ballot and a fair count," he said:

"In 1888 we had a Democratic election law and Democratic machinery to control that law. In that year Cleveland beat Harrison in the State by 13,000 votes. In 1896 we had an election law passed by a fusion Legislature and in the hands of fusion machinery, and Bryan defeated McKinley in the State by nearly 20,000 votes. This is a clear vindication of the Democrats as to fraud in any of the elections under their control.

After referring to Mott's gyrations, and Dockery's performances in jumping on to the Populist platform with the bait of the Lieutenant Governorship, and then back again on to the Republican platform for a nomination for Congress, he concludes thus:

"Everybody understands the political situation to-day. A 12-year-old child can see the condition of affairs. In the eastern part of the State they have turned several counties over to the negroes under their horse-swapping manner of doing business. That is not right. I am not in favor of putting negroes in office over white men. And such a state of affairs never did exist when the Republican party had control of affairs in the State. It is a local matter entirely and does not exist elsewhere. I do not want to be understood as being opposed to negroes holding offices which they are competent to fill and where they do not come into social conflict with white people. The negroes themselves do not really want such offices. The condition of affairs in your own county is an example to you. Look at the condition of your school affairs. The administration of the schools of this county under Gettys and others is a disgrace to civilized men."

As coming from an eminent Republican leader whose party fealty has never been questioned these extracts are very interesting reading for both black and white Republicans, who might profit by the reading if they would.

A REPUBLICAN WHO COULDN'T STAND IT.

Mr. Charles T. Eudie, a prominent Republican of Mecklenburg county, like Mr. Allred, of Randolph county, had doubts about the representations as to negro rule in Eastern counties. Mr. Allred went to Raleigh on a visit of investigation, remained a few days, and went back home a convert, to work and vote for white rule.

Mr. Eudie came to Wilmington and spent several days in this city, mingling and conversing with Republicans in office and out of office, with Populists and with Democrats, and as a result he has gone home thoroughly convinced that it is his duty as a white man and a good citizen to come to the rescue of the East and vote and use his influence to relieve her from the black incubus that is crushing and destroying her. He reports the results of his conversations and observations in a sworn affidavit published in the Charlotte News, which thus tells who Mr. Eudie is:

Mr. Charles T. Eudie, of this city, who has been a life-long Republican and has never voted anything but the Republican ticket, has just returned from a trip to Wilmington. Mr. Eudie is not only a Republican, but two years ago was the Republican candidate for constable of Charlotte township against Mr. Irwin (Democrat). He has been a prominent fusionist worker, and was a sincere advocate of the principles of fusion.

His sworn statement fills a couple columns of the News. After relating his experience and what he had learned from prominent Republican officials and others, he thus concludes:

"After that I took in the city on my own hook and looked it over thoroughly. I talked with a number of prominent citizens, Democrats, Republicans and Populists, and none of them denied the statements that have been made regarding the conditions there.

"I found conditions there much worse than I had ever expected to find.

"I am so disgusted with the conditions of affairs down there that my mind is fully made up. I do not think that there is a white Republican or Populist in Mecklenburg county who, if he went to Wilmington and saw the condition of affairs there as I saw them, who could vote the ticket this year, and thus help to perpetuate negro rule in Eastern North Carolina.

"Though I am a Republican in principle and have heretofore always voted the Republican ticket; at this election I shall cast my vote for the Democratic State and county ticket. I believe that it is the duty of every white man in this county to vote that ticket this year. A vote for the fusion legislative ticket in Mecklenburg county is a vote to perpetuate such conditions in Eastern North Carolina."

There is nothing surprising in this, for if Mr. Eudie came here as an honest seeker of truth (which he did), he could not have done otherwise. No white man with the respect for his race and the love for his wife and children that he ought to have, and a soul and a conscience, could spend any time in the East, see what is going on, note the evidences of misrule and the insolence and aggressiveness of the negroes without protesting against it and doing as Mr. Eudie has done, proclaiming the wrong and doing all in his power to rescue this fair portion of North Carolina from the degradation and blight of negro rule. No honest, soul-possessed white man could do otherwise.

ANOTHER OBJECT LESSON.

The telegraphic dispatches, published yesterday, from Huntsville, Ala., report an attack by men of a negro cavalry regiment on the Provost guard, resulting in the death of the Captain of the guard and the serious or fatal wounding of several more, white and black. The attack on the guard was caused by an attempt to rescue a negro cavalryman who was arrested for disorderly conduct. The negroes were so determined that it took a platoon of white cavalrymen with drawn sabres to disperse them.

This is another object lesson illustrating the contempt of the negro soldier for the civil law, and his disposition to resist it when the attempt is made to enforce it against one of his companions. We do not know of a single instance since the negro troops have been called into service where they have not resisted the civil officers when one or more of them had violated the law and attempts were made to enforce it. But this is characteristic not only of the negro soldiers, but of the mass of negro civilians, who, in nine cases out of ten, resent the arrest of a negro, unless for some offence against another negro, as persecution by the white man.

We have had numerous illustrations of that in this city and there is not a town or city in North Carolina, or in any other Southern State, where the negroes are found in large numbers, that does not furnish them from time to time. The fact is the average negro submits to the law not because he is law-abiding or respects it, but because he is compelled to. With the negro in absolute ascendency, there would be practically no law.

"When you are sick, what you like best is to be chosen for a medicine in the first place; what experience tells you is best, to be chosen in the second place; what reason (i. e., Theory) says is best to be chosen in the last place. When you have a bad cold Dr. Inclination would recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy because it is pleasant and safe to take. THE NEGRO IN WINSTON.

Encouraged by the recognition received from the mongrel party now in power the negro is not satisfied with asserting himself in the East but is coming to the front in the central and western counties. We referred to this a couple days ago, and not long ago published an extract from a letter by a Forsyth negro denouncing the way a negro had been chiselled by the white bosses out of a nomination for the Legislature.

Winston is a negro center, the large number of tobacco manufactories there giving employment to several thousand of them. But there they herd together, and are controlled by pretty much the same sort of men that lead them in other sections—that is unprincipled office-hunting white men and incendiary negroes. The following, which we clip from the Winston Journal is an illustration.

"The negroes of this city had a big pow-wow in the court house last night. Speeches were made by Junius Hawkins, J. S. Lanier, A. R. Bridges, Henry Neal and others. They abused the Democrats in all of the speeches and said if the Democrats were elected the negroes would be disfranchised. One of the speakers, Henry Neal, stated that the issue now was the 'negro and the white woman.' Another thanked God that the colored man was on top and called on his hearers to see to it that they stayed on top.

"Such is the result of Republicanism. Such is the reward the white men of this section get from people whom they have been paying taxes to educate for nearly thirty years and whose needs are ministered to with an unstinted hand every Winter.

"The only consolation about this matter is that a large class of colored people here and elsewhere will repudiate such feeling and such utterances. Low down white men are responsible for it."

POINTS POLITICAL.

NO POPULIST THIS YEAR.

An Observer reporter met Mr. Neill L. Monroe on the streets this morning and asked him how was politics. He replied: "I'm still a populist but this year I'm bound to vote the Democratic ticket."—Fayetteville Observer.

BRINGING 'EM BACK TO VOTE.

It seems certain that the Republicans are trying to arrange to have the Third North Carolina regiment composed of colored volunteers, brought over from Knoxville in time to vote. The plan of securing a thirty days' furlough for the men is being considered, it is thought. At any rate, a Republican, who enjoys the confidence of the bosses, was heard to assert that the negroes would certainly vote in North Carolina.—Asheville Citizen.

APPEALING TO THE NEGRO.

Senator Pritchard, addressing an audience of negroes at Winston the other night is reported to have said, "the white people are organizing for 'white supremacy,' it is your duty to vote solidly together," a covert way of the senator to advocate black supremacy. This is simply a frank avowal of the senator and his followers and co-laborers that the success of their combination, dependent as it is almost entirely upon negro votes, means nothing more nor less than negro domination.—Raleigh Post.

ON THE HONOR ROLL.

I want to state publicly that I am no longer a Populist, but will vote the White Man's Ticket in the coming election. Six years ago I left the Democratic party and took up my abode with the Populists, seeking reform and other measures denied us under Clevelandism, but since our leaders have yoked us with the negro, and the Democratic party has repudiated Clevelandism, I feel that my place is with that party—to support and work for White Supremacy—and I have put my name on the honor roll of the White Government Union.—G. W. Dorkins, of Robeson county, in Red Springs Citizen.

The negro jumped from a second story window. Mr. Harrington followed through the window and gave chase, shooting at him, the ball taking effect in one of the negro's legs. The negro is now in jail.

— W. Meadows, Republican postmaster at Moravian Falls, Wilkes county, was tried in the Federal Court at Greensboro last week for forging the name of R. Eon Laws. He was released upon the payment of costs. Is this justice? Meadows was arrested a few months ago and bound over to the Federal Court in a bond of $200 for forging Law's name. That is, he owed a certain firm an amount for goods purchased, but refused to pay it. They threatened to sue him and wrote to the postmaster at Moravian Falls (not knowing that Meadows occupied that position) asking for the name of an attorney. Meadows intercepted the letter and gave the name of R. Don Laws. The firm wrote Laws, but Meadows again captured the letter. After several letters had been written the firm wrote one to "Lawyer" R. Don Laws and addressed it to Wilkesboro. Laws got this and an investigation followed. Laws had written no letters. Meadows was arrested.

TIPSY MEN DANGEROUS.

A Story of the Trouble Involved In Trying to Help One of Them.

Three or four men were spinning yarns in one of the parlors of the Charleston hotel, and the conversation drifted around to experiences with drunken men.

"You've no idea how dangerous it is to have any dealings with a drunken man whom you may meet on the street," said one of the party. "A man sometimes gets into trouble that may last him a lifetime. I recall an experience of a friend of mine that will serve to illustrate the point.

"One Sunday morning several years ago we were sitting in his room in New Orleans watching the people coming home from church when suddenly there staggered into sight a block away a well dressed man, evidently much the worse for what he had taken. We watched him as he worked his way up the street, clinging to the palings and taking up all the pavement he could. We were somewhat inclined to consider it a joke, until he came to the opposite corner and paused in despair at the prospect of crossing. The crossing was none too well paved anyway and the presence of a trolley car track directly in front of him evidently added to the terrors of the situation for him. So he stood there, embracing a lamppost and trying to make up his mind to the task, until my friend took pity on him. Saying, 'Poor devil! I've been in the same fix myself,' he went to his assistance. The man was grateful and clung to my friend like a brother until he landed him safely at home.

"Next day a policeman called to arrest my friend on the charge of having robbed somebody of a watch and chain. It was the drunken man, who, when he recovered, had found those articles missing and remembering my friend's name had sworn out a warrant against him. You can imagine what a sensation it created. The poor fellow was marched away to the station house and locked up, and we were in a state of mind. The afternoon papers were full of it of course, and it was talked all over town. You can imagine the relief to all of us when, late in the evening, a man appeared with the missing articles and stated that the drunken man had given them to him to take care of until he sobered up. The charge was withdrawn of course and the profoundest apologies offered, but that day my friend quit New Orleans and has never been there since."—Charleston News and Courier.

UNDER NEW YORK'S WATERS.

What Could Be Seen on the River Beds if Laid Bare.

Not one person probably in 1,000 in New York city and very few of those who daily ride back and forth on the ferries have any idea of the topography of the bottom of the rivers and bay. Now suppose that the waters of the East and North rivers were dried up and the waters of the upper bay should recede to Sandy Hook, what sort of a picture do you suppose would be presented? Well, if you stood on the Battery and looked down into the bed of the upper bay you would see a great, deep basin with a sort of canyon running through it from the mouth of the North river to the Narrows. This canyon would form the bed of the ship channel.

You would have to go down an almost precipitous incline from the Battery to reach the bottom of the bay off the Barge office, and if you looked toward Governors island it would resemble a huge irregular castle with a stone parapet and rock bound sides. North of Governors island you would see the seamed remains of what was once Diamond reef and walking up the East river bed the New York and Brooklyn shores would appear anywhere from 25 to 30 feet above you, with the piers perched high on their wooden spiles.

Incidentally you would view some grew some secrets probably, which the waters had for years concealed, and north of the Brooklyn bridge, near Blackwell's island, you would come upon reefs that man has sought for years to destroy. A walk through the main ship channel to Sandy Hook would also be interesting, and the bed of the North river would reveal that systematic work has been done to so control the depth of the waters in it that the commerce of the world can now proceed for many miles up this great ship thoroughfare.—New York Journal.

Old Trinity Churchyard.

There is no more dismal and hideous sight than a new graveyard full of glittering, obtrusive white monuments, square, ponderous and costly. But a burying ground which has attained a ripe age, say, a century or so, is capable of affording a distinct sensation of esthetic pleasure. Toned and tempered by wind and weather into neutral harmony, the intrusive lettering on the stones half obliterated, there remains no ghastly funeral suggestion, but only a gentle impulse to quote Omar on the evanescence of things. Such a graveyard is the Old Trinity, past which the busy crowds of Broadway and Wall street surge all day. It is a thing of beauty, though perhaps not one in 100 of those eager faced men hurrying past ever stop to look at it or think of it. If he did, one imagines he would slacken his pace and perhaps take a half holiday. The ancient plot of ground, sown thick with low gray and brown stones and looking like a field of mushrooms, makes that human torrent rushing by seem melancholy and meaningless.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

NOISELESS TELEGRAPHY.

Receiver That Can Be Made to Whisper Softly In the Operator's Ear.

The introduction of typewriter machines in telegraph offices, on which operators take down the message received, has necessitated increasing the volume of sound emanating from the sounders in order to make their clicks clearly distinguishable above the click of the typewriter machine. The result has been that the noise in telegraph offices has in many cases increased to such an extent as to be a serious menace to the health of the operators.

In order to reduce this noise and to make the received message entirely secret a special sounder has been invented. The sounder, which is inclosed in a hard rubber case, is very light, the whole thing, with conducting cord complete, weighing but four ounces. It can be used not only without the slightest inconvenience to the operator, but much to his comfort and advantage, relieving him of all unnecessary nerve and physical strain. It can be attached directly to the main line, where it acts as a combined relay and sounder, giving all the service of both, without any of the disadvantages and annoyances of a main line sounder.

The mechanism of this little instrument is very simple, consisting of a set of electro magnets of from 2 to 150 ohms resistance, according to requirements. An ingenious arrangement of the armature and lever brings the former in actual contact with the poles of the magnets in such a manner as to double the working force of the armature. The armature lever is provided with hammers, which in action strike upon a resonating plate. A shifter or switch at the side of the case draws the hammers from the plate and reduces the sound to a minimum.

Owing to the loudness of the sound when the hammers strike upon the resonating plate messages may be received with the sounder placed on the table or desk, and in this way it may also be used for a call, thus combining in one instrument both a loud and secret sounder. Should it be desired to take a secret message the sounder is adjusted from the outside by means of the shifter referred to, which is graded so that the operator may regulate the volume of sound to suit his own ear. This may be from the faintest click to the full volume of the loudest sounder. The instrument is then worn on the head. The case and headband being made of hard rubber insures the operator from shock from abnormal currents passing through the line.—Electrical Engineer.

The Mighty Cæsar.

It was on his way to the battlefield of Pharsala that Cæsar uttered the famous saying to the fishermen. He had come down to Brindisi to cross to Dyrrachium, and, finding no galley, commanded the owner of a small sailing boat to put him across the Adriatic. On the voyage a violent storm occurred, and even the experienced mariners were terrified, but the great captain said: "Have no fear! You carry Cæsar and his fortunes."

Paris consumes 209,000,000 liters of milk a year, which comes to about only two-fifths of a pint daily for each inhabitant. City cows yield 21,000,000 litres, suburban cows within a radius of 12 mi 53,000,000 liters. The remaining 153,000,000 liters come by rail from a greater distance.

Beats the Klondike.

Mr. A. C. Thomas, of Marysville, Tex., has found a more valuable discovery than has yet been made in the Klondike. For years he suffered untold agony from consumption, accompanied by hemorrhages; and was absolutely cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. He declares that gold is of little value in comparison with this marvelous cure; would have it, even if it cost a hundred dollars a bottle. Asthma, Bronchitis and all throat and lung affections are positively cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Trial bottles free at R. R. BELLANY'S drug store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00. Guaranteed to cure or price refunded. †

"CONTEMPTIBLE PIE HUNTERS."

This Is What Butler Called Those Who Favored Co-Operation in 1897.

Here is what Marion Butler said in his paper, the Caucasian, in February, 1897:

"The co-operation of the Populists and Republicans in this State has been a dismal and disastrous failure. Only the contemptible pie-hunters see any good in it."

If you do not believe Marion Butler's paper said this, ask him whether it did or not. He dare not deny it.

If "co-operation" had no "good in it" in 1897, is there "any good in it" in 1898, when Negro Domination is staring us in the face?

What Marion Butler said in the Caucasian in 1897, is exactly what every decent white man in North Carolina believes now.

MORE NEGRO SCOUNDRELISM.

Black Beasts Attempt to Outrage the Young Daughter of a Respectable Farmer.

HER FATHER SWEARS TO IT.

Attacked On the Public Highway in Brunswick County While Returning From Sunday School—Her Screams Saved Her From a Fate Worse Than Death.

Joseph Gore is an honest and respectable farmer of the county of Brunswick—poor in this world's goods, but esteemed by his neighbors. He has a wife and children, and there is a church and Sunday school near his home which are attended by his family. But he lives in a township where the negroes outnumber the whites more than three to one. This, coupled with the fact, no doubt, that Brunswick county is under Republican-Fusion rule, emboldened two beastly negroes to make an attempt to outrage a young girl on the public road as narrated in the following affidavit:

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
County of Brunswick.

Personally appeared before me, Geo. H. Bellamy, a Justice of the Peace for Town Creek township, Brunswick county, Joseph Gore, who, being duly sworn, states: "Some days ago my daughter, aged 15 years, was returning from Sunday School, accompanied by her little brother, aged 12 years, about 3 o'clock in the afternoon. When about a quarter of a mile from home, two negro boys, aged about 16 to 18 years, ran after my daughter, with their coats turned over their heads to conceal their identity, and attempted to take hold of her, and doubtless would have placed their unholy hands on her person; and had it not been for her screams would have doubtless accomplished their purpose. This was done in Town Creek township, in broad daylight. The villains have not yet been detected.

Signed, "JOSEPH GORE."

Signed and sworn to before me this 19th day of September, A. D., 1898.
GEO. H. BELLAMY, J. P.

White men of Brunswick county, can you stand that? Is there one left in the borders of your county who will not now vote against every candidate who consorts with negroes, and who is dependent on them for election? Has it come to this, that your daughters cannot attend church or Sunday school without having a body-guard to protect them from the lustful black brutes who roam through your county?

Rise in your might, white men of Brunswick. Assert your manhood. Go to the polls and help stamp out the last vestige of Republican-Populist-Negro Fusion.

A HORRID SLANDER.

The Most Infamous That Ever Appeared in Print in This State.

The Alarmed Politicians are Trying to Break the Force of it by Resorting to Various Dodges, But They are Too Thin.

The infamous assault on the white women of this State which appeared on the 18th of August in the Daily Record, the negro paper published in this city, has aroused a storm of indignation from one end of the State to the other. We have received so many requests for copies of the STAR containing this article that we herewith reproduce it in full, the accuracy of which is certified to by Col. John D. Taylor, Clerk of the Superior Court of New Hanover county, and by a number of our well-known business men. The article is headed:

Mrs. Felton's Speech.

"A Mrs. Felton, from Georgia, makes a speech before the Agricultural Society at Tybee, Ga., in which she advocates lynching as an extreme measure. This woman makes a strong plea for womanhood, and if the alleged crimes or rape were half so frequent as is oftimes reported, her plea would be worthy of consideration.

"Mrs. Felton, like many other so-called Christians, loses sight of the basic principle of the religion of Christ in her plea for one class of people as against another. If a missionary spirit is essential for the uplifting of the poor white girls, why is it? The The morals of the poor white people are on a par with their colored neighbors of like conditions, and if any one doubts the statement let him visit among them. The whole lump needs to be leavened by those who profess so much religion and showing them that the preservation of virtue is an essential for the life ot any people.

"Mrs. Felton begins well for she admits that education will better protect the girls on the farm from the assaulter. This we admit and it should not be confined to the white any more than to the colored girls. The papers are filled often with reports of rapes of white women, and the subsequent lynching of the alleged rapists. The editors pour forth volleys of aspersions against all negroes because of the few who may be guilty. If the papers and speakers of the other race would condemn the commission of crime because it is crime and not try to make it appear that the negroes were the only criminals, they would find their strongest allies in the intelligent negroes themselves, and together the whites and blacks would root the evil out of both races.

"We suggest that the whites guard their women more closely, as Mrs. Felton says, thus giving no opportunity for the human fiend, be he white or black. You leave your goods out of doors and then complain because they are taken away. Poor white men are careless in the matter of protecting their women, especially on farms. They are careless of their conduct toward them and our experience among poor white people in the country teaches us that the women of that race are not any more particular in the matter of clandestine meetings with colored men, than are the white men with colored women. Meetings of this kind go on for some time until the woman's infatuation or the man's boldness, bring attention to them and the man is lynched for rape. Every negro lynched is called a 'big, burly, black brute,' when in fact many of those who have thus been dealt with had white men for their fathers, and were not only not 'black' and 'burly' but were sufficiently attractive for white girls of culture and refinement to fall in love with them as is well known to all."

"Mrs. Felton must begin at the fountain head if she wishes to purify the stream.

"Teach your men purity. Let virtue be something more than an excuse for them to intimidate and torture a helpless people. Tell your men that it is no worse for a black man to be intimate with a white woman, than for a white man to be intimate with a colored woman.

You set yourselves down as a lot of carping hypocrites; in fact you cry aloud for the virtue of your women while you seek to destroy the morality of ours. Don't think ever that your women will remain pure while you are debauching ours. You sow the seed—the harvest will come in due time."

THE AFFIDAVIT OF THE CLERK.

An effort has been made by some of the politicians to fool the people by representing that this slander was a Democratic trick or was garbled, but the following affidavit from the Clerk of the Superior Court settles the question as to its accuracy:

NORTH CAROLINA,
NEW HANOVER COUNTY.

I, John D. Taylor, Clerk of the Superior Court of New Hanover county, do hereby certify that the foregoing is an accurate and true copy of an editorial in the Daily Record, a paper published in the city of Wilmington, of date Aug. 18, 1898.

"I further certify that said paper has been published in said city at least eight months prior to this date; that Alex. L. Manly, the editor, is a negro, is well known as a Republican and has before this held the office of Deputy Register of Deeds of New Hanover county, by appointment from Charles W. Norwood, Republican Register of Deeds, of New Hanover county.

"I further certify that John N. Goins, business manager; L. D. Manly, foreman; Jno. T. Howe, general traveling agent; and F. G. Manly, general manager, are all negroes, and are known as Republicans and the said Jno. T. Howe was a Republican Representative from New Hanover county in the Legislature of 1897. Witness my hand and seal this August 24th, 1898. JOHN D. TAYLOR,
Clerk Superior Court of New Hanover Co.

Who Manly Is.

As the Republican politicians in this county could not call this assult a Democratic trick, or say it was garbled, they tried to break the force of it by repudiating the paper as a party organ and characterizing the editor as a "simpleton" who represents no one but himself. The following affidavit from a number of business men of Wilmington testifies to the accuracy of the published slander, tells who Manly and his associates on the Record are and shows that Manly was not regarded as a simpleton, or a nobody before he startled the bosses by the publication of that awful article:

CITIZENS TESTIFY.

B. G. Worth, of the Worth Co.; R. W. Hicks, wholesale grocer; C. E. Borden, president of Navassa Guano Co.; W. L. DeRosset, commander of N. C. Division Confederate Veterans, and John C. Springer & Co., each being duly sworn says that he has read the foregoing paper, and that the said is an accurate and true copy of an editorial in the Daily Record of the date August 18th, 1898; that said paper, the Daily Record, has been published in the city of Wilmington at least eight months prior to this date, and Alex. L. Manly, the editor thereof, is a negro, is well known as a Republican and has held the position of Deputy Register of Deeds in New Hanover county under the Republicans.

Affiants further say that John N. Goins, business manager, L. D. Manly, foreman, John T. Howe, general travelling agent, and F. G. Manly, general manager, are all negroes, and Republicans, and the said John T. Howe was a Republican Representative from New Hanover county in the Legislature of 1897.

THURSDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 13.

ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH.

Meeting of Archbishops—New Apostolic Delegate to Cuba Appointed by Pope Leo.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, October 12.—The annual meeting of the Archbishops of the Roman Catholic Church began at the Catholic University to-day under auspicious circumstances. Just prior to the opening session, Cardinal Gibbons, who as Archbishop of Baltimore is presiding officer of the Archbishops, received a cable dispatch from Rome announcing that Pope Leo had appointed Archbishop Chappelle of New Orleans as apostolic delegate to Cuba.

The dispatch made no reference to Porto Rico, so that the scope of the special mission is confined to Cuba. Archbishop Chappelle is a linguist, speaking both Spanish and French, so that his work can be prosecuted under favorable circumstances in Cuba.

The particular duties of the new apostolic delegate to Cuba will be to provide for the proper assimilation of the church in the West Indies to the American church. Aside from the ecclesiastical rearrangement the duties of Archbishop Chappelle doubtless will cover the settlement of questions relating to the vast church estates, and to the future conduct of those communities which are almost exclusively Catholic.

The annual meeting of the archbishops began to-day. Those present were: Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishops Williams of Boston, Corrigan of New York, Ryan of Philadelphia, Feehan of Chicago, Elder of Cincinnati, Kain of St. Louis, Hennessy of Dubuque, and Katzer of Milwaukee. The absentees were Archbishope Chappelle, now in Paris, Gross of Oregon, and Riordan of California.

The archbishops completed their work at the afternoon session and adjourned, although a committee will remain here until to-morrow to apportion funds for Indian schools to the several archdiocese in which the Indian work is carried on. At the close of to-day's meeting, Archbishop Kain, who acted as secretary, said there was nothing to give to the public, as the proceeding had been confined entirely to the internal affairs of the Church.

The appointment of Archbishop Chappelle continued to be uppermost among the delegates. It developed late in the day that the Archbishop had left Rome and was now at Paris, where the peace commission is now meeting. While it was the accepted view here that Archbishop Chappelle would remain at the head of the New Orleans archdioceses, yet it was felt that it might become necessary to appoint a bishop to assist him. The understanding here is that he will go to Havana and Santiago, and conduct his work in Cuba. There he will be the personal representative of the Pope, just as Cardinal Sattoli and Monsignor Martinelli have represented the Pope, in the United States. It was a source of some satisfaction among the prelates that the Vatican had on this occasion chosen an American priest for a distinctly American enterprise.

THE PEACE NEGOTIATIONS.

Philippine Question Discussed Incidentally—Difficulties in the Way of an Understanding.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

PARIS, October 12.—The American Peace Commission held a session to-day, but as usual the subjects under consideration were not discussed.

According to the Gaulois the joint sitting yesterday of the peace commission was devoted to an examination of the solution which it is possible to give to two questions in the protocol.

The Philippine question, the Gaulois adds, was discussed incidentally, the United States seeking to impose systems of compensation, under which the United States would claim, it is said, the entire group of the Philippine islands and assume their debt, provided Spain guarantees the Cuban debt. As to the Spaniards, it further appears they would like the United States to assume the Cuban debt and to surrender to Spain all the war material in Cuba and Porto Rico.

The discussion among the commissioners yesterday still, according to the Gaulois, was very animated. Judge Day, the president of the American commission, and Senor Montero Rios, the president of the Spanish commission, having received precise instructions from their respective governments, the American commissioners consider that no discussion is possible on the principles themselves, which, in a certain measure serve as the basis of the protocol. The first preliminary, according to them, while being merely of a provisional nature, should be rigorously observed. They add that "when Spain was overturned at the conclusion of peace, her power in Cuba was crushed absolutely, and in consequence Spain no longer has the right to occupy herself about the destiny of the Antilles Islands.

To these arguments the Spaniards, the Gaulois also says, reply that the protocol was signed at a moment so critical and in the face of such an imperious necessity that it cannot be considered as being ratified by the sovereign free will of the nation. In this fact, they conclude, there exists a sufficient reason to allow of their non-acceptance as definite the preliminary conventions relating to Cuba.

"The arrival, therefore, at an understanding," says the Gaulois, "offers grave difficulties, and one asks with anxiety how the negotiations will eventually terminate."

In diplomatic circles here it is declared that the conjecture of the newspapers on the problems before the peace commissioners are not justified by facts. It is added that the relations between the two commissions are in no way so delicate as the newspapers indicate.

CONDITIONS AT CAMP ALGER.

Gen. Graham's Testimony Before the War Investigation Committee.

FEW INSTANCES OF NEGLECT.

Regimental Officers Largely to Blame. Water Supply Insufficient—No Bathing Facilities—No Lack of Medical Supplies.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, October 12.—General Graham continued his testimony before the war investigating commission to-day. He believed that the proximity of the tents to one another at Camp Alger was responsible more than any other cause for the sickness there and said the medical officers also were of this opinion. He thought the want of water for bathing purposes and the habit of the men in eating other food than prescribed by the regulations had had deleterious influences. At the beginning of the history of the camp there were no bathing facilities, but later the men were marched seven miles in brigades once a week for baths. There had been no lack of medical supplies, but some of the medical attendants were inexperienced and inefficient.

Gen. Graham stated that while the commissary supplies were plentiful the men were often without the prescribed food because the regimental officers were not sufficiently impressed with the importance of drawing their food. This was especially true in the matter of fresh meat. He said that the corps was for a time short of wagons for transportation, owing to shipments to Florida. This deficiency had occasioned some hardship to the men.

Gen. Graham said that in the case of most of the regiments there was considerable delay in supplying them with arms and ammunition, first attention being given always to the troops to be forwarded to the front. For a time, during an epidemic of measles, there was a shortage of hospital linen for the beds, but the deficiency was only temporary. Secretary Alger had spoken to him personally about keeping up the supplies for the sick, asking that he (the secretary) be personally informed there was a deficient and assuring him that the demand should be immediately met. There were occasionally shortages in other supplies, such as ice, but he did not believe that any deaths had been due to this cause.

Ex-Gov. Norbury and Dr. Conner examined Gen. Graham in regard to the space occupied by the camp. Dr. Conner said it had been definitely stated to him by a medical officer that surface drainage had found its way into the wells.

"I positively deny it" responded Gen. Graham.

Taking it all in all, Gen. Graham said he had no doubt that the medical department at Camp Alger was administered in a competent manner. No doubt he said, there were individual instances of neglect, but they were not the rule. With the reforms inaugurated Camp Alger would have been very healthful and the removal to Camp Meade was largely sentimental and in obedience to public clamor. Gen. Graham declared Camp Meade to be an ideal camp, splendidly located and well supplied with camp necessities.

At the afternoon session Gen. Graham was examined with reference to some criticisms of Camp Alger made by Col. Smart, deputy surgeon general of the army.

Gen. Graham said he remembered Col. Smart's visit, but that the colonel had made no complaint to him beyond pointing out verbally that the camps of the Pennsylvania troops were too close together for sanitary purposes. A change of site was immediately ordered, so as to permit expansion.

Referring to officers appointed from civil life, Gen. Graham said that some of them had proved efficient, but that others were incorrigible. Some of them were, he said, too old to learn.

Gen. Graham said he had no complaint to make as to the management of the War Department, but he thought the war was such an emergency that the department was not at first prepared to meet its demands as promptly as might have been considered desirable. He thought, however, that the criticisms of citizens concerning the conduct of the war were due to the ignorance of people who meddled without sufficient information to enable them to speak wisely. He had experienced some delay in the beginning of the camp's history on account of red tape methods, but when the Secretary of War heard of this he told him to report directly to him (the Secretary).

RAILROADS IN CUBA.

Secretary Alger Will Recommend to Congress An Extension of the Existing System in the Island.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, October 12.—Secretary Alger will recommend to Congress that the existing railroad system in Cuba be extended so as to form a line running directly from Cape Maysi [illegible] end of the island to Cape Antonio on the western extremity. He will also recommend that this work be undertaken by the United States government and that Congress appropriate the necessary funds. The Secretary expects to serve a double purpose by the construction of this road. In the first place it is a military necessity. The existing railroad system in Cuba is extremely crude; it is not possible to get troops within three or four hundred miles from Santiago by rail from Havana. No less important service to be served by the construction of the road is to restore prosperity to the island at the earliest possible moment and alleviate the distress now existing among the native Cubans. The construction of the railroad will give work to many of the unemployed native laborers. As the road progresses sections of the country will be opened up that are now inaccessible to trade.

YELLOW FEVER REPORT.

Ten Places in Mississippi Infected. Sixty-Seven New Cases.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, October 12.—The official dispatches to the Marine Hospital Service to-day show that on yesterday there were ten places in the State of Mississippi with yellow fever. Sixty-seven new cases were reported and one death, which occurred at Harriston. At Franklin, La., there were twenty new cases but they are reported to be of a mild type and there are no deaths there. The outbreak reported at Bay St. Louis, Miss., proves to be at Waveland, a little village four miles this side of the center of the bay. The report to-day shows nine cases there.

TRIENNIAL COUNCIL EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

Reports of Committees on State of the Church and Education—Work Among Colored People.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, October 12.—Included in the preliminary routine business transacted by the House of Deputies of the Episcopal Council at its session to-day, was a resolution reported by Rev. Dr Duncan, of Louisiana from the committee on the state of the church, having for its object the publication annually of pastoral letters calling the attention of the people to the obligations for the support of the aged and infirm clergy. The resolution was adopted.

The committee on education reported adversely the resolution for the consolidation of the several church societies whose object is the raising of funds to educate young men in the clergy. The committee sympathize with the principles of the resolution, but there are legal embarrassments in the way.

Rev. John J. Fraude, of Minnesota, presented a memorial adopted at the conference of church workers among the colored people recently held at Richmond, for the advancement of the work of Episcopalians among the people of that race in the South. After an hour's discussion the article as reported by the committee was adopted, and is as follows:

"Dioceses and missionary districts may be united into provinces in such manner under such conditions and with such powers as shall be provided by a canon of the general convention; provided, however, that no diocese shall be included in the province without its own consent."

Article 8 of the proposed new constitution, relating to the qualifications of priests and deacons necessary to examination and consecration, was then taken up. An amendment, proposed by Rev. Dr. Easter, of Los Angeles, was adopted, providing that in the declaration of belief required of bishops, priests and deacons, the word "doctrines" shall be in the singular form, as representing the fundamental principle or belief of the Church and opposed to the plural form which sets forth its teachings.

The article, which Dr. Dix explained was in accord with the existing law, except in slight changes, was adopted.

Article 9, regarding the trial of bishops, presbyters and deacons for offences contrary to the discipline and law of the Church, led to considerable debate.

A message was received from the House of Bishops announcing the selection of San Francisco as the place for holding the council of 1901.

At their morning session the House of Bishops having received the report of a committee on the rearrangement of missionary districts, postponed temporarily the nominations of missionary bishops.

The bishops of West Virginia, Pittsburg, Easton, South Carolina, and Kansas were appointed a committee to consider the memorial from the conference of colored people held last month in Richmond.

Nearly the whole of the afternoon session of the deputies was consumed in the consideration of Article nine; an amendment offered by Mr. Stetson, of New York, finally being adopted. It provides for the establishment by or with the authority of the general convention, of a court or courts of appeal with power to review the final determination of an inferior court as shall be provided by canon. The whole article was recommitted to the committee for further consideration and report.

Shortly before adjournment Article ten, which relates to the use of the Book of Common Prayer, and seeks to throw safeguards around it with a view to preventing its hasty or inconsiderate alteration, was taken up.

Rev. Dr. Huntington of New York offered an amendment to the article, a provision on the subject of Christian unity, and made an impassioned appeal in behalf of the principles embodied in the amendment. Without action the matter went over until to-morrow.

The following delegates were named as members to consider the memorial of the colored conference recently held in Richmond, Messrs. Faude of Minnesota, Craik of Kentucky, Thomas of Pennsylvania, Woolworth of Nebraska, and Lee of South Carolina.

The bishops spent the entire afternoon in the consideration of the canon relating to the remarriage of divorced persons, but without finishing it adjourned until to-morrow.

Incidental to the convention was a meeting to-day of the American Church Building Fund Commission. The officers elected include the following: President, Right Rev. John Williams; vice presidents, Right Revs. Henry B. Whipple, William C. Doane, George De N. Gillespie, Thomas A. Starkey, Cortlandt Whitehead, Bishops Johnson, of Los Angeles, Nichols, of California, and Talbot, of Central Pennsylvania; secretary general, Jas. C. Wilson; corresponding secretary, Rev. J. Newton Perkins; treasurer, Geo. C. Thomas, of Philadelphia, and assistant treasurer, E. W. Roberts, of New York; also a board of seventeen trustees.

BLOODY FIGHT AT VIRDEN, ILLS.

Battle Between Striking Union Miners and Imported Negro Laborers.

MANY KILLED AND WOUNDED.

Train With Negroes Pulled Out for the North—Cars Riddled With Shot—Troops Ordered to the Scene of Trouble.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

SPRINGFIELD, ILLS., Oct 12.—Telegrams to State President Hunter, of the mine workers of Illinois, say a battle has been fought between striking miners at Virden and negroes imported from Alabama. The president is advised that the men guarding the train bearing negroes fired repeated volleys into a crowd of miners at the platform of the depot as the train rolled into the station, killing ten men whose names cannot be learned from here. The town is in the greatest excitement and cannot be reached from here either by telegraph or telephone.

ST. LOUIS, October 12.—A special to the Post-Dispatch from Virden, Ills., says:

Nine men on the train were killed and thirteen wounded. Ten miners were killed and sixteen wounded. The train pulled out for the north and the cars were shot full of holes. A reporter for a Chicago paper was killed at the Chicago & Alton depot by a stray bullet. J. F. Eyster, manager of the company store, was shot and tramped on by the miners. He cannot live.

The miners are looking for Lukens, manager of the shaft, who has hidden. It is impossible to find out how many were killed in the stockade.

Another Account.

VIRDEN, Ill., October 12.—The little town of Virden is comparatively quiet to-night after a day of riot and bloodshed, resulting from the long expected clash between the union miners and imported negroes. At 12.40 o'clock this afternoon a Chicago and Alton special train bearing 200 negro miners from the South arrived at the stockade around the Chicago Virden Coal Company's mines, and immediately the fighting began. The list at one o'clock to-night stands seven dead and thirteen wounded.

It is said that six men were wounded inside the stockade, but this has not been verified and those inside the stockade refuse to communicate with outsiders.

For the past two weeks rumors have reached Virden that a train having negroes from Alabama would reach the city and the Chicago and Alton depot has been surrounded day and night by miners. The Chicago and Alton limited, due to pass here at 10 o'clock en route to Chicago, arrived an hour late, displaying flags on the rear, indicating that a special was following. Immediately the word was spread and a dense crowd of miners lined the station platform, while another crowd collected at the entrance of the stockade, a half mile north of the station.

At 12.40 the special train passed the station and signal shots were fired from the south end of the train, announcing its arrival. Immediately shots were fired from the moving train and outside and the battle was on. A few moments after the train had passed the switch where Kiley was stationed, and while he was talking with the citizens, he threw up his arms and dropped dead with a bullet through his brain. He was the first man killed. The train continued to the stockade, the miners firing into it all along the route and the negro passengers returning the fire. The moment the train reached the stockade the miners opened a desperate fire with Winchesters, revolvers and arms of all descriptions. The negroes on the train answered with a steady fire. The miners on the train were enveloped in a cloud of smoke and the shooting sounded like a continuous volley. Engineer Tigar received a bullet in the arm and dropped from his seat. His fireman seized the throttle, pulled it open and with a jerk the train was under speed, carrying a load of wounded negro passengers to Springfield. How many were wounded is not known. The train stopped at the stockade but two minutes. Its departure did not cause the fight to cease. The stockade was filled with sharpshooters armed with Winchesters, and they kept up a steady fire into the crowd of union miners. Eyewitnesses say the dead miners were killed after the train had departed. It is not known how many men are stationed behind the walls of the stockade, but an estimate places them between twenty-five and forty.

It is claimed that six men within the stockade were wounded, but those inside refuse to hold any communication with the outside and nothing authentic can be learned. Word was, however, sent from the stockade to physicians in town that their services were needed.

Wounded On the Train.

SPRINGFIELD, Oct. 12.—The special train on the Chicago & Alton, which brought the Alabama negroes from Virden, had eight wounded men, all deputies, except one, a colored miner, who were sent to the Springfield City Hospital. Of these men one died to-night, William W. Carroll, a deputy sheriff. He was shot through three times. Another train which arrived at 9 o'clock to night brought up six wounded men, who are at St. John's Hospital.

Gov. Tanner to-night wired the War Department asking if the Fifth Illinois infantry could not be placed at his disposal for use at Virden. Col. Culver, the commander of the Fifth, has tendered his services and those of the regiment to the governor. The miners are gathered in knots on the streets, but there have been no demonstrations. They say they recognized some of the negroes who arrived here from Virden this afternoon as some of those who came three weeks ago from Alabama and refused to go to work at Virden, and who were sent home at the expense of the miners' union.

An Associated Press representative secured admittance to the stockade late to-night, and found one dead and eight wounded inside of the stockade.

There are about thirty five strong men stationed inside the stockade to-night, each keeping watch through a loop-hole. The four towers have been deserted.

Manager Lukens remained at his desk in the office all night, issuing orders to his men. Manager Lukens said to-night: "The blood of every man shed here is on the Governor's head. He is absolutely outside of the law and has no justification in refusing to send troops.

Troops Ordered to Virden.

CHICAGO, October 12.—Col. Young, of the First Illinois volunteer cavalry, received orders to-night to report at Springfield immediately troops A, B, C and D of his command. These troops will leave at 11 o'clock to-morrow morning and from Springfield will be hurried to Virden.

WASHINGTON, October 12.—Late to-night a telegram was received by the War Department from Gov. Tanner, of Illinois, that the Fifth Illinois now on furlough be placed at his disposal to quell the riotous demonstrations at Virden, Ills.

The situation at Virden is represented as critical, and Governor Tanner is embarrassed because all of the State militia are in the service of the United States. He is unable to order to the scene of the miners' troubles any of the Illinois troops in the service of the government without the authority of the Secretary of War. The matter involves some difficulties which preclude the possibility of a hasty decision. It will be submitted to Secretary Alger to-morrow morning, and late to-night Adjutant General Corbin said that the probabilities are that the regiment will be placed at the disposal of Governor Tanner.

Another Man Killed.

VIRDEN, ILLS., Oct 12.—A detail of militia at 10:15 o'clock killed Ex-Lieut. of Police Tom Preston of Chicago at the stockade. He was standing outside the stockade as guard. The militia gave the by-standing miners the command to halt and Preston stepped back to the gate. The militia fired and he was shot in the stomach. He was carried into the office in the stockade where he expired.

Battery D, of Galesburg, Ill, under Capt. Craig, arrived here to night from Pana.

Cause of the Trouble.

CHICAGO, October 12.—The difficulty at the Virden mines originated April 1, 1896, when the miners of the Fourth district of Illinois went out on a strike instituted by the United Mine Workers. Trouble followed at once at Pana, but the Virden miners remained quiet through the Summer. The strikers had asked for 40 cents a ton and were offered 28 cents. Actual disturbances at Virden began September 25th, when the Chicago-Virden Company, the principal mine owners at that point, imported one hundred negroes from Alabama.

When the train arrived with them on board it was met by a large body of armed union miners who threatened to shoot the first negro that stepped from the cars. The negroes were finally prevailed upon to return to the South and the mines were not operated.

President T. C. Loucks, of the Chicago-Virden Company, then proceeded to make preparations to get other miners. October 9, Sheriff Davenport notified Gov. Tanner that there would certainly be trouble and that State troops were needed to preserve the peace.

Gov. Tanner advised the mine officials against importing miners; that he was opposed to the system, that while there was no law to keep them out of Illinois, he did not feel it to be his duty as Governor to use the arm of the State to give protection to mine owners in operating their mine with this class of employes.

Superintendent Lukens according to Gov. Tanner, replied that the mines would be run at all hazards, that the company would employ such labor as they saw fit, that they would import this labor and operate the mines with it, even if they had to do it at the point of the bayonet and the muzzle of the Winchester.

No troops were sent. The next day Mr. Loucks notified the Governor that his mines would be operated, and demanded the protection of the State. The matter was brought before the State board of arbitration and that board decided in favor of the miners; but held that injustice had been done the Chicago Virden Company.

Gov. Tanner's Condemnation.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., October 12.—Gov. Tanner, this evening, regarding the Virden riot, said:

"Mr. T. C. Loucke, president, and Mr. Lutkin, superintendent, of the Virden Coal Company, at 12.30 to-day made good their threats to land a train load of imported laborers from the South and attempted to put them to work in their mines at the point of the bayonet and the muzzle of Winchesters, (such laborers being drawn largely, if not entirely, from the criminal classes, ex-convicts, who learned their trade while doing terms in the penitentiary of Alabama), after having been fully advised and having full knowledge that the landing of such imported laborers would precipitate a riot. I had wired them that if they brought these imported laborers they did so at their own peril, and under the circumstances would be morally responsible and criminally liable for anything that might happen.

"The killed aud wounded are largely idle miners who were on the outside. The others were the hired guards who were brought along by the coal company. Most, if not all of them, were non-residents of Illinois. There is no means of learning their names or whereabouts, for the reason that they declined to give them out, knowing, perhaps, that they are criminally liable for murder, as they had no permission from any officer in Illinois authorizing or deputizing them to act as deputy marshals or deputy sheriffs.

"These avaricious mine owners have so far forgotten their duty to society as to bring about this blot upon the fair name of our State; have gone far enough; yes, too far, as they had fair warning from me, by wire and telephone, that the importation of labor which brings to our State an undesirable class of citizens had to stop, and I say now, to such, and all others, that this is a thing of the past; that it shall not be tolerated in Illinois while I am Governor. These men, the president and officers of the company, precipitated this riot by bringing in this imported labor, and are guilty of murder and should be, and I believe will be indicted by the grand jury of Macoupin county and tried and convicted for this heinous offence."

OCCUPATION OF CUBA.

Two Sites for Camps of American Troops Selected Near Havana.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

HAVANA, October 12.—The sites for at least two American camps have already been selected by the commission appointed for that purpose. The first will be outside Guanabacoa, across the bay from Havana, and the second will be at Guanajay, twenty miles from here. The main object in view in the selection of the camps, beside their healthy location, is the possibility of approaching them from the sea without having to enter the harbor of Havana, which is considered to be the source of infection.

At a private conference at the palace yesterday, Gen. Wade requested Captain General Blanco to cause the evacuation at the earliest possible date of two ports on the island, in order to facilitate the immediate bringing of relief rations into Cuba.

Col. Rowen and his side de camp arrived here last night, thus completing their trip from Santiago.

MINNESOTA INDIAN TROUBLE

The Hostiles Have Agreed to Surrender and Return to the Agency—There Will Be No War.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ST. PAUL, MINN., October 12.—A Walker special to the Dispatch says: The Bear Island or Pillager Indians will surrender and have no war. It only remains for the terms to be arranged before the hostiles will come into the agency. Father Aloysius Homanutz, Gus Beaulieu and Chief Gay Gwa Che Way Bimung, the three peace commissioners who left on the Flora last evening for the hostile camp, got back at 4 o'clock this morning. They reached the camp at Black Duck Point, at the mouth of the Boy river, at 9 o'clock last night. Indians on watch responded to signals and the three peace commissioners went ashore in a skiff, carrying flour, bacon, sugar, rice, tobacco and canned goods. They met a large number of the Indians back in the woods and were given a cordial greeting. Hands were shaken all around and the battle of a week ago was talked over. The Indians alluded to it as a little fun. They asserted that none of their number was killed or wounded. The emissaries refused to make public their report until submitted to Commissioner Jones, further than to say that the Indians will come to the agency when a reply is sent back to the statements in the report of the commissioners.

Apart from this, the meeting discussed at length the advisability of changing several features of the constitution, without however coming to any definite conclusion.
